SENATOR JOHNSON PUTS LEASING MEX LAND UP COLLEAGUES

INVESTIGATION OF MEXICAN-JAPANESE SYNDICATE HAS BEEN REQUESTED

By Associated Press.
Washington, March 29.—The senate foreign relations committee was asked today by Senator Johnson, republican, of California, to inquire into the 2,000,000-acre land grant on Magdalena Bay, Lower California, recently given by the Mexican government to a Mexican-Japanese syndicate.

The request was submitted to Chairman Borah, who said he, too, wanted all the facts about the concession.

The land involved has long been regarded as a valuable naval base.

Sensors Borah and Johnson believed all the information available should be secured by the American government.

Senator Borah has previously taken the matter up with the State Department, which as a result, is expected to make inquiries as to the nature of the transaction.

Thus far neither the department nor Senator Borah has any information except that contained in a recent newspaper dispatch from San Diego, saying the syndicate proposed to produce vegetable dyes and rubber.

FIRE UNDETERMINED ORIGIN ALSO CAUSED BIG PROPERTY LOSS

A. O. EDMONDS LOSES LIFE
IN FIRE EARLY SUNDAY MORNING

Fire originating from an undetermined cause in the oil fields Saturday night took the life of A. O. Edmonds, 28 years old, oil field worker, and consumed about 2,400 barrels of crude oil, together with nine steel tanks.

The fire took place on the Pure Oil Company's R. D. Fleming lease between Mildred and Whitten about midnight or a short while later. Edmonds was working around the tanks and was thought to have been atop of one of them when a gigantic explosion tore the top off and set fire to the contents. The dead man's charred body was taken from the ruins about 6 o'clock Sunday morning after the fire had died down, and brought to the undertaking parlors of Bank Sutherland.

Funeral services for Edmonds will be held at 2 o'clock Tuesday afternoon with burial in Oakwood Cemetery. Rev. Smith of the Pentecostal church will officiate. He is survived by his wife and a six months old baby; his father, three sisters and one brother. The father from Tulsa, Ok., and sister from Tulsa and one from Fort Worth arrived in Corsicana, and one sister and one brother are expected to arrive here from Missouri Tuesday morning.

Edmonds had been living in this section for the past three years, coming to the local oil fields from Mexico, where he worked during the oil boom before the Corsicana field was opened. The family lived in the oil fields.

Consumed in the fire were seven 1,000 barrel oil tanks, one 500 barrel tank and one 1,500 barrel tank. The flames could be seen from Corsicana and for quite a distance in all sections of the oil fields. No other person was injured, as Edmonds was working alone at the time of the accident. It is thought he was standing on the tank that caught first and was attempting to put out the fire when the accumulated gas from within exploded, throwing him high into the air. The body evidently dropped back into the flames, where it burned almost beyond recognition before being brought from the burning ruins several hours later.

ROY B. HENDERSON GAVE TROPHIES TO WINNING STUDENTS

STATE HOME AUDITORIUM PACKED IN LAST EXERCISE OF MEET

The 1926 University Interscholastic League meet was finished with the exception of one or two events Saturday and the auditorium of the State Home was packed to capacity Saturday evening when the trophies were awarded to the winners of the various events. Roy B. Henderson, athletic director of the University Interscholastic League with headquarters in Austin, presided at the meeting Saturday night and made the presentation of the trophies to the winning contestants.

In the beginning of his remarks, Mr. Henderson stated that Navarro county was one of the few counties of Texas with 100 percent membership in the University Interscholastic League and he was loud in his praise of Ernest Cox, director-general of this county, for this fact. He stated that it was a stupendous task to put on a county meet of the size and proportion of the meet held here Saturday.

He stated that it meant a great deal to all of the schools of a county could get together for a day of competition. He declared that a meet of the size of the Navarro county meet usually takes two or three days to complete it.

Mr. Henderson stated that a great deal of educational value was derived from the meet. He stated that it tended to promote citizenship, character and a sound body. However, he stated that in the event that the meet and athletic contests were carried too far, they were harmful and whenever that condition exists, it is caused by the school officials and not the inter-scholastic league. He said that sportsmanship, courage, and honor was developed on the athletic fields as the boys learn a valuable lesson when they lose as well as when they win and that it takes more manliness to accept defeat than to win.

Boxing Bout.
As an entertainment feature prior to the assembling of the contestants and spectators in the auditorium for the presentation of the trophies, "Battling" Dunn and Ray McPadden, both of Corsicana, staged an exhibition boxing bout in the pavilion before a crowd of approximately 1,000 people. The two boxers sparred on even terms. Both had been in bouts the night before and were not in condition for a regular bout.

Special music was furnished the assemblage prior to the formal presentation of the trophies by a male quartette composed of Messrs. White, Harper, Spurgeon and McClure, all of Corsicana. The glee clubs, boys and girls, of the State Home under the direction of Miss Hallie K. Sadler, also gave a number of selections.

Corsicana high school won the track and field meet with the Kernens high school in Class A by a score of 106-41. Kernens won the literary events and the two schools are tied. The outcome of the tennis contests will determine the school to win the all-around Class A championship. Each school has 75 points.

The all-around ward school and Class B championships have not been determined and will be announced by Director General Cox within the next few days. There were approximately 1,000 contestants who participated in the meet Saturday. The entire program, with a few unavoidable exceptions, went off according to schedule and those who were responsible for the meet cannot be thanked too much by the citizens of the county.

WATCHFUL WAITING
ATTITUDE ADOPTED
GUBERNATORIAL RACE

DAVIDSON CAMPAIGN MANAGER GIVES OUT STATEMENT TO PRESS

In the race for Governor, the statement is made by A. A. Allison, head of Lynch Davidson's campaign, temporarily located in Corsicana, that the race for the three acknowledged leading entrants, since the announcement of each of them, has settled down to a more or less "watchful waiting" attitude on the part of each candidate.

"People are not interested to any great degree, the only avowed expressions of purpose to hasten political alignments coming from a few old time leaders in Dallas who are fretting somewhat at the lack of political enthusiasm among the people," he said.

Mr. Davidson, according to Mr. Allison, has set forth his campaign doctrine in a clear and emphatic platform, built upon an inclusive and comprehensive knowledge of the state, its pursuits, its needs, its hopes and its hindrances; and many endorsements are coming to him of Davidson's declaration that he proposes to conduct a canvass without mud-slinging, abuse or even political crimination so usual in politics.

EXPECT TO RECEIVE
FINAL PLANS SOON
SCHOOL BUILDINGS

According to announcement by W. P. McCammon, president of the Corsicana school board, the completed plans and specifications for the new school building to be erected at the corner of West Fourth avenue and North Thirty-first street, and the addition to the Wm. B. Travis school, will be received within a short time, and arrangements will be made for the beginning of construction at an early date as possible following the receipt of the plans and the sale of the bonds.

Wm. B. Ittner & Company of St. Louis are architects for the buildings, with Harry Blanding of Corsicana as associate architect. The plans call for a new building which will be erected on a block of ground recently acquired by the school board from the city of Corsicana at Thirty-first street and Fourth avenue and an addition of four rooms to the Wm. B. Travis school, on West Thirteenth avenue.

FERGUSON SAYS MOODY IS SPOILED KID AND BAND-BOX STATESMAN; ACTS REVIEWED

By Associated Press:

Austin, Texas, March 29.—Charging that Attorney General Dan Moody's campaign for governor is based on youthful ambition and personal hate, former Governor James E. Ferguson, husband of Governor Miriam A. Ferguson, candidate for re-election, Saturday said that Moody would get the same thing July 24 at the Democratic primaries "that Paddy gave the drum."

The former governor took the attorney general to account for his actions. In the 6,000 word review of every issue that has come between the present administration and Moody, Ferguson charged that Moody is a band-box statesman. He referred to him as a spoiled kid who will never again afflict the people of Texas in politics.

Ferguson tells why the highway commission was reorganized, how Moody kept the commission from entering the American Road Company case, he scores the attorney general for not participating, until too late, in the Archer county road district bond case.

The former governor defended his right to advise the governor, and the right of the Ferguson Forum to receive advertisements. He charged that the reason that the textbook commission controversy arose was because S. M. N. Marrs superintendent of public instruction, did not get adopted a speller for which the superintendent voted.

Reference is made to Moody's war record in the statement, the text of which follows:

"Daniel J. Moody claiming to be a Democrat is fighting and opposing a good woman for a second term in the governor's office. He brings no charge against her or her official acts save and except that she has taken advice from and sometimes follows the advice of her husband."

"I am the husband that he has in mind. In his formal announcement some days ago for the first time in the history of Texas politics, he, a candidate for governor, attacks a private citizen, and he unwittingly says that I have greater power and influence than any public official. He says that Texas should not again elect a woman governor for the second because she might continue to take my advice.

"If he is sincere in this charge then I suppose when he takes unto himself his bride in a few weeks, as announced in the papers, he will very promptly and emphatically inform her that she must not even attempt to advise him or confer with him in any way about any official duty or action because it is a crime against the public for him as a public official to take any advice from his wife."

"In other words wives shall be seen and not heard. They of course can vote for him, but they cannot and will not be consulted. Somebody said that America had three great egotists, one being Charles Sumner of Massachusetts and that E. M. House was the other two. I think this statement is wrong and in my opinion Dan Moody is the whole three."

"A few disappointed political has-beens and a few more so-called high-toned city women are kicking up a lot of sand and they say Dan is the Moses to lead them out of political bondage. And then some of them thinking that would put Dan a little too much out of date now say that he is the new Saviour that is sent to save the country and to prove it they say that Dan is just 33 years old and that he has been in office three years, which is just the age of the Saviour and the same length of the Saviour's ministry."

"All this may be historically correct, but I want to remind this crowd that Moses only saw the promised land and never entered therein and that the Saviour's ministry only lasted three years. Dan may be a Heaven-bound soldier, but the only time he will ever look like a Saviour will be when he is nailed to the cross on the 24th day of July. He may have titles to mansions in the skies, but he is a gone fawnish as far as this world is concerned. He might be a Saviour if he had divinity. He might suffer crucifixion if he had a message. Lacking both he is blown up."

"Let us go back a little and see if we ever heard this argument about the crime of me advising my wife. This tune will be familiar to us all, because it so recent. It is the same tune that was sung by Felix Robertson, the Klux candidate, less than two years ago. It is the same tune that was sung by Hutto the Republican candidate just a little over two years ago. All over the state this same charge was made and the people warned against the fearful danger of me whispering in my wife's ear. The people heard the argument by this same bunch of so-called, would-be political Saviors and Moses. The people flatly turned it down in two elections by more than 150,000 majority. In those two contests where was this same said Daniel J. Moody? He was with the verdict of the people (or was supposed to be) and voted that way and I dare him to deny it. He voted to reject the crowd that was making the same argument that he is making now. If he was right then, he is wrong now. If he is right now, he was a hypocrite then."

He had not then got the governor's bee in his bonnet. But he no sooner had landed in the attorney general's office when he began to find something to run for governor on."

"As he has jumped me, I suppose I won't be hung if in my own feeble, stammering way I venture to reply to his charges. He says that I am a private citizen and that I admitted that I am a 'salaried employee of a railroad.' It was not necessary for me to admit anything, for I told the people in an open statement to the press in five minutes after I, as a private citizen, became a 'salaried employee' of a railroad. If Dan Moody wants to say that it is a crime to be a 'salaried employee of a railroad' then I accept the challenge and I have no apologies to offer. Although my 'salaried employee' service ended January 1, yet I want to say that the 'salaried employees' of the railroads of Texas are just as good just as honorable and honest as Dan Moody and this whole darn silk-stocking crowd that is running him."

"Yes I know they call me a roughneck, and they say I am uneducated, but I notice they don't forget us 'salaried employees' and roughnecks when it comes time to pay taxes in time of peace and shoulder a gun in time of war."

"Again Dan Moody says that I operate a newspaper carrying expensive advertisements of corporations while legislation affecting their interests are pending. I do not know to what advertisements or corporations he refers. Let him make the charge calling names and facts. I have been running the Forum for nearly nine years and if he wants to make the charge that it is a crime to take advertisements, then let him jump on the Fort Worth Star-Telegram and the Houston Post-Dispatch, whose daily columns are filled with advertisements of corporations while they are supporting him for governor. But Daniel it is up to you. If you can show any corruption in the Forum ads, the bridge is off, let the people know the facts."

"I never saw Dan Moody until about two months before the last primary. In twenty minutes after he met me, he asked me to support him for attorney general. Through the influence of mutual friends I agreed to do so. I never even asked him to support my wife. I kept my promise. He was known in the greater part of Texas. My little paper, The Forum, boosted and bragged on him because his friends asked me to do so. The Forum was a wonderful paper as long as it was bragging on Moody for attorney general, but when it takes a few ads to make a living for its editor, then it becomes a great criminal in the mind of this young hero—the only honest man of the age—he admits it."

"Then he says that I have sat with the highway commission. The whole public is doing the same thing. Dan is mad because they won't sit with him. They said there was something wrong with the highway commission. The governor told me to find out what was the matter. The thing was so big it took me about three months to get on to what was going on. To get the whole dope I not only had to sit with the commission but I had to sit up with it. From the information which I furnished the governor she decided to reorganize the commission and it is now working well."

"That is why Dan is mad. He wants to run it. He wants to tell them what to build and what not to build. He told a senator that he was going to keep his eye on everybody in the capitol."

"Again Dan says that I have had a member of the textbook commission connected with the paper of which I am the head. Jumping on the poor old Forum again. He refers to Mr. Frank Chudej whose name among others was sent to the governor by the board com-

He did his gift-shopping at the jeweler's!

A JEWELRY PURCHASE IS AN INVESTMENT IN PERMANENT VALUES

MEN and nations pass. But their jewels remain.

Of all the possessions of ancient civilizations, the most enduring have been the tokens wrought in precious stones and metals.

Gone are the palaces of Egyptian kings; their gorgeous apparel and equipages. But scattered among the museums of today, in all parts of the world, many of their jewels are still intact; more beautiful and infinitely more durable than ever.

There is no finer gift than an Elgin Watch. Featured in a wide style variety and sold at prices ranging from $15 to $100.

Today, as always, a purchase at the jeweler's is an investment in permanent values.

Jewelry is one of the few luxury commodities which can be "consumed" year by year, decade after decade, without materially lessening the quantity or quality of the basic value!

Building up a line of jewelry means building up an asset-heritage for future generations, while enjoying the delight and charm of beautiful adornment in the building.

The jewelry business is among the fastest-growing in America, because, more and more, keen Americans are putting their shopping money into imperishable values.

FERGUSON SAYS MOODY SPOILED KID ACTS ARE REVIEWED

posed of the president of the state university, the president of the A. & M. college, the president of the C. I. A., the president of the San Marcos Teachers' college and Superintendent Marrs as a person suitable and qualified to serve on the textbook commission. Mr. Chudej of Bohemian extraction with more than ten years' experience in teaching in the public schools. He is a gentleman of character and ability. Being so recommended by the board of prominent educators, the governor thought she was justified in appointing him.

"Dan Moody does not dare say he is not qualified for this responsible place and he is only mar at him because he is my friend and employee of the Forum and because he is a Bohemian. Say Dan, how many Bohemians went to war before you did from Taylor, where they say they drafted you to run for governor. I have heard there were more than a hundred, but as you live there I am sure you can furnish the correct information."

"But the great crime in the mind of this 33-year-old kid is that I have become the clerk of the textbook commission. In the first breath he is kicking about my being a private citizen and then he tears his hair because I become a humble clerk. I have toted in the wood and water for a year for my victuals and no clothes, and now comes Dan with a college diploma in one pocket and a marriage license in the other and kicks about my getting promoted to clerk. I ain't fair. I ain't treated right. I ought not to be treated so bad. I don't get more encouragement as I am going to quit. I really hate him. I thought I was coming back good, but when the attorney general of Texas goes to pawing the earth every time a clerk is appointed, then it is mighty plain to me that little fellows ain't going to get a square deal. I am agin Dan Moody for governor, not because he is going to bother me but I am agin him because he is trying to take my clerk's job away from me."

"No, Daniel, just listen to me. What you and old man Marrs are mad about is that you did not get that book adopted that Marrs wanted. There was only one vote for the Marrs speller and that was his vote, and there were six votes for the book that was adopted the number required by law. The people who cast those six votes were high class teachers and honest men and women. When you insinuate that there was something wrong with the textbook adoption, you slander them and you are not going to deceive anybody by jumping on me. Whenever you get ready to jump on me I will endeavor to keep you from getting lonesome, but in the meantime, want to resent the infamous insinuation that is coming from you and Marrs about there being something wrong in the action of the textbook commission."

"If there is any corruption why don't you report it to the Travis county grand jury? You, while attorney general, have been with your assistants infesting the grand jury rooms for five months. Why did you not help the Archer county people when the bond litigation was first submitted in Washington. Unless you can produce the facts you ought to stop attacking the textbook commission. It is up to you. Put up or shut up."

"I notice Dan touched his high way suits mighty light in his announcement. This is the issue upon which Dan Moody and his crowd originally intended to elect him governor on. All I ask the people to do is to not only listen to the facts but demand the official facts and then I have no fears as to what the verdict will be. Now what are the facts?"

"On April 25, 1925, the highway commission by resolution duly entered in writing on its minutes accepted the proposition made in writing by the American Road Company and the Hoffman Construction Company for the asphalt treatment of certain designated highways approximating 800 miles."

"This contract provided that said firms should resurface the roads with an asphalt treatment to be laid in two courses when so ordered by the state maintenance engineer. The price to be paid for said two course treatment was 30 cents a square yard. Mr. Moody brought suit to cancel the contract of these two firms after they had laid one course of the treatment and in substance alleged that said firms had completed their contracts and the price contracted to be paid by the highway commission was so grossly excessive and unconscionable as to make a fraud upon the state."

"As soon as the attorney general filed this suit, the governor asked the highway commission for a statement of facts covering the contracts. The commission exhibited to the governor a statement in writing from the American Road Company which stated that said company acknowledged the right of the highway commission to demand a second course treatment and they were ready, able and willing to do the work, but that on account of Mr. Moody's suit they could not proceed to finish their contract in accordance with the two course specifications. "When these facts were known, the governor instructed the highway commission to appear in court and answer the suit of Mr. Moody charging the commission with fraud, and in view of the fact that Mr. Moody appeared unfriendly to the commission, the governor employed two attorneys to assist the commission in making defense against Mr. Moody's suit, which was proposed to relieve the American Road Company of its contract and obligations to lay the second course of asphalt treatment. Instead of Mr. Moody suit seeking to make the road company do something as it had agreed to do, his petition sought to relieve them of their obligation to lay the second course treatment. As this meant great loss to the state, the governor ordered the commission, through the attorneys appointed by her, to resist Mr. Moody's offer to relieve the road company of its obligation and in every way protect the rights of the state."

"It will be recalled that at that time there were flaming headlines about corruption in the highway department and all kinds of charges were made then and have been repeated down to this hour. Under these conditions the highway commission appeared in court through its attorneys and offered to defend its actions in letting these contracts to these companies and offered to how, if given the right to do so, that the price paid was not only not unconscionable but was reasonable."

"I want the people of Texas to know and not to forget in future discussions of this controversy that Mr. Moody was met in court and asked to prove his charges against the highway commission. He got behind a technicality and refused to meet the highway commission in open court and had the court to deny the commission the right to appear and defend itself. No sooner had the court ruled that Mr. Moody had exclusive right to represent the state and the commission denied the right to appear and defend itself. Mr. Moody and the American Road Company got together and made a settlement whereby the state was to recover judgment for $600,000 to be paid $296,000 in cash and the cancellation of $314,000 which the company had yet due and unpaid by the state."

"The total amount of yardage involved in that suit was 4,500,000 square yards. Dividing this sum into $600,000 it shows that Mr. Moody recovered back 133-10 cents a square yard on the total price and by the terms of his agreed judgment and fixed by the court with his approval, the American Road Company was paid a sum of 167-10 cents a square yard for the one course treatment, and by the terms of the judgment the American Road Company was relieved of any further liability under the contract."

"Let it not be forgotten when in this campaign the price of surfacing treatment comes up for discussion that Mr. Moody agreed in open court to pay the American Road Company 167-10 cents a square yard. Whatever else may be said, he agreed that 167-10 cents a square yard was a fair price for the state to pay for one course treatment and the settlement was made for that sum with Mr. Moody's approval."

"After the company was thus permitted to go scot free and the state was left to finish the work of the American Road Company, the highway commission, just as soon as the winter months were over, advertised for bids for the second course treatment which Mr. Moody had relieved the American Road Company of doing under contract. There were some seven or eight bids by responsible firms. In order that the small contractor might bid, the commission divided the work into three sections. The lowest bid was 12 cents a square yard for the one course treatment, the next lowest was 14-4 cents and the next bid was 17 cents, making an average of 14-6-10 cents a square yard to complete the job."

"Adding the price agreed on by Mr. Moody of 167-10 cents it appears that the cost of this work to the state will be 313-10 cents a square yard, or one and three-tenths cents more than the price originally contracted for by the old highway commission. These facts, that cannot be denied, and Mr. Moody's foolishness not only has not saved the state a dollar, but has lost the state at least the difference between 30 cents a square yard and 313-10 cents a square yard."

"Let me state it another way. Moody agreed in court to pay 167-10 cents a square yard for a one course treatment and then no bid could be obtained by reputable contractors for less than 14-6-10 a square yard for the second course treatment. Therefore how can any sane man contend that 30 cents was unreasonable, let alone unconscionable."

"The Hoffman Construction Company suit has not been tried. But that company has tendered in open court to the state a second course treatment without cost to the state and Moody has refused it and thereby save the state the cost of the same."

"They also offered to settle their suit on the same basis as he settled with the American Road Company and he refused to do that. Why should he be so friendly with one and discriminate against the other?"

"Now Moody contends that the paramount and vital issue upon which his campaign is to be based is honesty in office and economy in the administration of every department of our government. All right, Mr. Moody, we accept the challenge. We will go you one better and say that we are for the Golden Rule and the Ten Commandments, but all of which is high sounding phrases that don't get anybody anywhere. You say that you are for honesty in government. I agree with you, and if there has not been somebody dishonest, you have not said anything or shown any need for your candidacy. If there has been any dishonesty then tell the people who it is. If it has been the governor, I dare you to say so. If you want to say I have been dishonest, then I double the challenge. If the governor has not been dishonest, but somebody else has in some other department, what argument would that make for your candidacy. You had just as well understand that I am going to keep after you and make you name some dishonest person in the government and produce the proof, or I am going to let the people know just how insincere and unfair you are."

"You forgot to tell the people in your announcement that for five long months you have hung around and intruded yourself upon the Travis county grand jury, trying to get an indictment against me and members of the highway commission. You had the grand jury and five months time. I am informed that every member of those different grand juries voted for you for attorney general. You were in your home town, your home court, in the hands of your friends with the right to make the highway commission and every other department of the government produce their books and records and you had witnesses in court for your rigid interrogation."

"Notwithstanding all this, you failed to find any evidence upon which you could base an indictment against any official of the state government, and yet you slander your state by insinuating that somebody has been dishonest in office. If you know of any dishonesty in office and have not reported it to the grand jury, then you have not been fair with the people. If you have not been able to find any dishonesty then you ought not to slander the people and the American Road Company was so dishonest as you would have the people believe, then how came you to become so friendly with them? What was the agreement under which they readily agreed with you to deposit something over $400,000 in a Dallas bank. Time after time I have demanded that you show this agreement and you have failed and refused to do so. If you were really fighting in good faith, then why is it that your bosom political friend, Judge Ireland Graves, who was also the attorney for the American Road Company, is now boosting you so high for governor of the state?"

"Senator T. H. McGregor tells me that you told him that the lawyers in the American Road Company case got $100,000. I do not know of course what they got. I only know what you told Senator McGregor, and I believe him, and I dare you to explain any service that a lawyer could render in that case, purely as a lawyer worth $25,000, let alone $100,000. Under the agreement made by you in court the American Road Company stepped out with a profit of $200,000. The governor employed two lawyers at $1,000 each to prevent you from making this trade and now you admit that your friends representing the road company made $100,000. You are a fine man indeed to be kicking about somebody employing a lawyer to protect the interests of the state. So much for your sanctimonious appeal for honesty in government."

"Now let's see about the other end of your paramount issue, economy in government. The present administration has brought about a net reduction in taxes of more than $10,000,000 under the last administration under which they were appointed to office. The state tax rate this year will be reduced by more than 25 per cent. Now let's see what you have done to let bring about this reform. When you were running for attorney general, you made the statement many times that you could reduce the cost of that department on an economy platform just like the rest of the administration."

"When you came into office you found that office had 11 assistants at $3,600 a year. Notwithstanding your promise of economy you went before the appropriation committee and had the salaries of every one of them raised to $4,000 a year, an increase of more than 10 per cent. The governor in order to make you do at least something toward economy vetoed one of your $4,000 appointments."

"If you could not reduce the expenses of your own department, then what in the world could the people if you were put in the head of the state government. If as a lawyer, you could not reduce the expenses of the legal department, you would rattle around like a mustard seed in a gourd, when you came to grapple with the question of reducing appropriations in other lines of the government. If this administration had increased the total appropriations in the same proportion as you increased these, and wanted to increase it but for the veto of the governor, there would have been instead of $10,000,000 decrease in appropriations a $5,000,000 increase. In other words the difference between what this administration has already done and what you would be expected to do is just the small sum of $13,000,000."

"Dan says he wants to enforce the laws. All right we will agree with him. The governor approved the law preventing unlawful search and seizure in order that the people might be protected in their constitutional rights. The governor is still in favor of the law. Mr. Moody please tell the people where you stand on that question."

"And by the way Dan, I see you have failed to say anything about the Ku Klux question in your platform, and I see that your friends are bragging about the fact that you ran 50,000 votes ahead of the ticket in the last election. The returns show that in the 12 big counties of the state, Collin, Cooke, Dallas, Denton, Grayson, Harris, Hill, Hunt, Jefferson, McLennan, Tarrant and Wichita, you received a total of 104,275 votes, while your Klan opponent only received 63,825 votes a total majority in these Klan counties of 10,448. If you have been really in good faith fighting the Klan, then please explain to the people what caused the sudden change of heart in the Klan counties from a Klan candidate to you? It may be that in these figures we find a reason for your not having a word to say in favor of my wife for governor when she was fighting the Ku Klux-Klute combination in the November election. Why should you be jumping on the Ku Klux so hard, after they voted for you so strong?"

"Moody's campaign is founded on youthful ambition and personal hate. His chief advisers and instigators of his candidacy are O. B. Colquitt and Tom Love. Is it any more crime for me to advise my wife, than it would be for these two political has-beens to advise Moody? I am willing for the people to decide."

Much Value Left in Used Cars

The man who says "No, I wouldn't buy a used car," undoubtedly plays safe—but did it ever occur to you that every car seen on the streets and highway is in the status of a "used car?"

Many people exchange their cars while yet practically new for cars of different types, and many real savings can be effected by desiring people in the purchase of a used car. Crumley, Ellis & Co., local Chevrolet dealers, have a number of used cars at their East 5th avenue store, the ownership of which any one could be proud.

EIGHTEEN PERSONS PROFESS CHRIST AT REVIVAL SERVICES

SUNDAY WAS GREAT DAY WITH ELEVENTH AVENUE METHODIST CHURCH

There were eighteen conversions at the Sunday morning service at the revival meeting now in progress at the Eleventh Avenue Methodist church. Rev. Mr. Chisholm, pastor who is conducting the meeting, stated that he believed the conversions were the result of the afternoon meetings for children held last week. These meetings will continue through the revival and are held at 3:45.

A special evangelistic service was held at 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon, though not largely attended the minister said much interest was shown. The meeting was discussed and experiences told. At this service the men decided to hold prayer each evening at 8 o'clock at the church and then go invite others to the meeting.

Much interest is being taken in the meeting and the attendance is growing with each service. The main auditorium was almost filled Sunday night and there were a number who responded to the different invitations extended by the minister.

Declaring that it was a tragedy to refuse to obey the call of God, the Rev. Mr. Chisholm appealed especially to the Christians to let God direct their lives, in his sermon Sunday night.

The subject, "God's call and Man's Refusal" was based on the first chapter of Jonah and the minister used the story of Jonah to illustrate the points brought out in his sermon.

IRWIN OPENS HIS CAMPAIGN SATURDAY ATTORNEY GENERAL

PROMISES TO FOLLOW IN FOOTSTEPS OF DAN MOODY IF ELECTED

By Associated Press.

Huntsville, Texas, March 29.—A promise to follow in the footsteps of Dan Moody and to make the attorney general's office the watch dog of public honesty was made here Saturday by Representative T. K. Irwin of Dallas in opening his campaign for attorney general.

In the city whose chief institution—the state prison—he has repeatedly attacked on the grounds of inefficiency and cruelty, he declared that he not only would continue in his attempt to rid the penitentiary system of "machine politics" but would attempt to drive inefficiency and corrupt politics from every department of the state in which he might find them.

Irwin led the fight for prison reform in the last legislature, obtaining a vote in the House asking for the resignation of a number of officials, but the same resolution was voted down in the Senate. He declared in his speech Saturday that the prison investigation was based on the same principles of honesty as the highway investigation, and that to carry on this line of attack, the governor would need an attorney general who had shown his ability and willingness to fight for state honesty.

"My platform is embraced in one short word—honesty," he said. "That's my platform, all of it."

"I claim no patent on that simple word, no monopoly on it. I appropriate it to my use because it expresses most eloquently the idea which I would make prominent."

"Just that rugged old fashioned honesty which returns a dollar of service for a hundred cents in salary. That covers all the ground, for with honesty, since its purpose, efficiency to the limit of ability and tireless guardianship of your trust."

"Honesty also reassumes ability for a man who will seek an office, knowing himself to be incompetent to fill it, is a cheat and fraud, attempting to secure something under false pretenses."

"In this particular situation, honesty demands that I tell you frankly that should I become attorney general, as I feel I shall, I shall pick up whatever litigation the present attorney general must leave unfinished and mobilize the entire power of the legal department to protect the state's interests."

Cheerfully do I undertake that task. I supported Dan Moody when he ran for office; I support him now. He has done while in office, I'll support him when he leaves office by succeeding him and following through.

"The law is the law and must be enforced as written. Suggested changes, such as a return to the old plan, have no appeal to those charged with the duty of enforcement, and who must probe for fraud where there are surface indications of it. Mr. Moody did that successfully in the face of adverse circumstances. For that he is to be commended, and I can best state my own position by saying that if you know what I shall do, I choose to succeed him."

"Please let no one interpret the kind words I have spoken for Mr. Moody as evidence of an undue interest in the gubernatorial race, or of any profession. It is my duty to endorse Moody, the lawyer, and take pride in his administration as an exemplification of the spirit of the Texas bar."

Irwin charged that the school "works like the road funds, had been preyed upon extensively by favored contractors, to the exclusion of honest bidders in a majority of the states."

"Laying aside direct charges of fraud or favoritism, it is enough of say that when the state pays more per book, when purchased by the millions of copies, than an individual is charged for a single copy, there is something wrong somewhere," he said.

"Whether wasted through dishonesty or by reason of inefficient and careless administration, the dollar that is lost from a school means just that much less for our sadly underpaid teachers, and a little topped off from every scholastic appropriation."

He praised Moody's handling of the textbook matters and declared if elected he would keep a sharp eye on the free textbook contracts. He declared that the "arch enemy of clean government is the political machine which employs the spoil system instead of the merit system," and he made a plea that some form of civil service, or the selection of state employees on the basis of merit without regard to politics, be instituted at once.

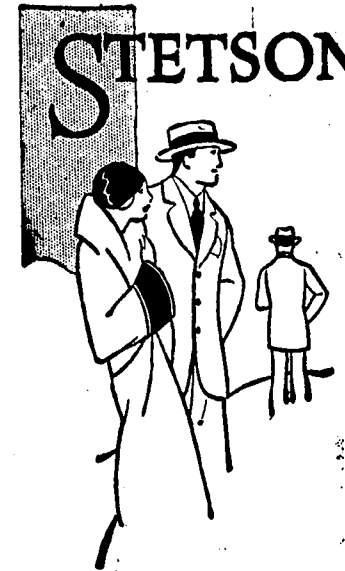

He said the "prison machine" by indefatigable lobbying had succeeded in staying off retribution the last session of the legislature, "and thereby maintained a precarious hold on the prison system and the souls and bodies of its helpless inmates in a victory which insures eventual defeat."

"The outstanding fact is that we indicted them in the house by an overwhelming vote. We did more than that. We indicted them in the minds of an aroused public, which will provide a remedy, perhaps even assess a penalty here and there."

He predicted there would be a complete housecleaning of the prison system before another spring arrives. The great need of the system, he said, was for men who would conduct the prisons on a businesslike basis.

"These will come," he continued, "and they will remain when the merit system replaces the rule of the machine, and every worker from commissioner to guard is face to face with the certainty that the permanency of his job depends upon his honesty, efficiency and personal decency."

He said that other departments of the state needed cleaning up and many abuses required attention. These things can be accomplished, he said, by a capable and conscientious governor with the aid of a vigorous and willing attorney general.

LAYMEN'S MEETING SUNDAY AT ZION'S REST BIG SUCCESS

A meeting that was very unique, interesting and profitable was held at the Zion's Rest Methodist church, Sabbath night, March 28. It was a meeting conducted entirely by the laymen.

The first talk, "Patriotism—From a Religious Viewpoint," was given by Mr. Paul M. Gladney. He stated that the United States was facing a crisis at the present time that was a greater crisis than the one she faced when she entered the World War. At that time she was not alone, but now she is alone. Every nation since history has begun fell when it became unable to enforce its laws. Every Christian should ask himself or herself, "Is it my fault that there is so much crime today?" Then having answered their question for themselves, vote to make this a better land and one able to enforce its laws.

Mr. E. J. Jones was very concise in his discussion, "Why Should I Be Loyal to My Church, First, Last, and All the Time?" Three reasons were given: First, because the church is the house of God where every one may worship; secondly, because of solemn obligations that were taken when he joined the church; thirdly, because the church, like any other institution or business, will go into the hands of a receiver if it is not patronized.

"What Are Some of the Things That Make a Prosperous Church?" was the topic ably discussed by Mr. W. L. Murphy. He said that the first requisite for a prosperous church was every member so filled with the Spirit of Christ that they lived the Christ-life, then everything else would follow just as it should. It is often said that to erect any institution it required three G's—Grace, Grit and Greenbacks. But with the church it required only one—Grace—and a lot of it, then we would put forth grit and the greenbacks would just naturally be there. If every so-called Christian was a real Christian there would not be so many out of the church today. The sinners look at the supposed leaders of the church and if the Christ they see in their lives is not the Christ that is preached, they will have nothing to do with the church. We need more grace, he said.

The next subject discussed by Mr. A. V. Wright is one that many people do not believe in and still fewer practice—"Tithing, Is It a Christian Virtue, and Is It Divinely Taught?" The last question was discussed first. Since the time of Abraham the people of God have been taught to give the Lord one-tenth of their possessions. If they did not the Lord complained and told them, "that they had robbed Him of offerings and tithes. The Jews were taught to give the tithe. When the Christ came He did not stress giving the tithe because the people already did that, but He did not change the law. When they asked Him if they should pay tribute unto Caesar He said, "Render unto Caesar the things that are Caesar's and to God that which is God's" thereby teaching our duty to our government and to our God. It is tithing a Christian virtue? Some people think so, but according to Mr. Wright, it is not. It is our duty to tithe, and anything that is a duty is not a virtue. To be a virtue we must give more than the tithe. Instances of giving as a Christian virtue were: the time Christ sat over by the treasury and they of their abundance cast in much. Christ commended this because it was above the tithe, but the widow who cast in two mites, which was about half as much as one of our copper pennies, received more commendations because she cast in all she had. When we have to sacrifice to give to Christ we receive a greater blessing because of the sacrifice.

"Should Every Church Member Support Our World-wide Missionary Institutions in a Financial Way? Why?" Mr. C. A. Dickson says this question can be answered in a few words or it might take an hour. He gave the number of institutions and teachers at home and abroad and said that if they were not supported they would go bankrupt.

Mr. Joe M. Brown was the last speaker and his subject was "Why Should Every Methodist Support the Church With Their Prayers, Presence, and Money?" Every Christian should be a praying person and if they are they will pray for the church. Prayer is most essential. Your regular presence at church may influence someone else. No institution or lodge will progress very far without the presence of its members. Money is not filthy nor does it belong to the devil, so why not give it to the church? We are God's, so is the money we hold in trust. We should give at least one-tenth of our money and as much more as we are able.

Special music was rendered by Miss Lois Brown, Mrs. Smith, and Miss Jones.

ADVERTISING PAYS: EXPERIENCE THREE PEOPLE IS CITED

Does it pay to advertise? Ask Mrs. T. H. Noble, Mrs. Thos. D. Queen, Rice, or W. T. Parker.

Saturday afternoon Mrs. Noble placed a classified lost advertisement in the Sun stating that she had lost her purse which contained $79.00. Shortly following the appearance of the Sun on the streets Saturday afternoon Mrs. Noble phoned the Sun office stating that a lady had read the advertisement in the Sun and the purse and money had been returned. The purse was found in the business section.

W. T. Parker called at the Sun office Monday morning and ordered a classified for rent advertisement discontinued. Mr. Parker stated that he had received twenty answers to the ad.

Last week Mrs. Thomas D. Queen of Rice lost her purse which contained $10 in money, jewelry and other articles. She placed a lost ad in the Sun and the purse and contents were immediately brought to the Sun office.

The above happenings not only prove that it pays to advertise but also evidences the fact that there are yet plenty of honest people in the world.

PLACE PROHIBITION UNIT EMPLOYES UNDER CIVIL SERVICE RULE

By Associated Press. Washington, March 29.—The house today approved without a vote the Crampton bill to place the employees of the prohibition unit under the civil service law.

The following has been handed in by E. J. Jones of Zion's Rest with a request for publication:

In noting the fact that a bakery in a neighboring town had gone into the hands of a receiver from lack of patronage of home people, the Hillsboro Mirror remarks:

The local firm paid local taxes. The local firm contributed to the various institutions and worthy causes in the town and community. The outside firm, of course, pays no local taxes. The outside firm contributes nothing to the usual local calls. The outside firm's only interest in the community is to get its business.

Now did local citizens make or lose money by the failure of the local institution?

How long would a town enjoy the luxury of electric light did not its citizens use the lights? How can they expect to enjoy the blessings and privileges of a phone system if a majority of the people chose not to take advantage of it? How can a town have a good local paper if the merchants whose support is necessary for its existence decide to go to the circular or postal card route in placing their business before the people or decide that "it don't do any good to advertise?" A paper cannot live on free church notices and special write-ups any more than a preacher can live on prayers and the compliments of his congregation.

It is simply absurd to think of any institution of value to a town trying to maintain an existence without the co-operation of those who are benefited by it.

If a town expects to prosper; if its people want to have those things in their midst that serve and help them to make business, they must show a patriotic spirit and give them the support to which they are justly entitled. It is poor business judgment to withhold patronage necessary to their existence. Any local concern that is serving the community or the school, must have financial as well as moral support, or, like the bakery, it must soon "go into the hands of a receiver."
